Coronavirus COVID-19 Readiness

The Law Offices of Donald E. Green

Like you, we are monitoring the latest news about the Coronavirus. Here at the Firm we have taken extreme steps to keep our employees and environment healthy.

We will continue to remain open and assure you that your legal matters will not miss a beat! We will do all we can to continue providing you with outstanding legal services with minimal interruption.

We are encouraging you to limit your visits to the office to help decrease the potential spread of the illness. We will make every effort to delivery our legal services through online services, email, telephone intakes, text messages, electronic checks, etc.

If you feel you require a person-to-person visit, we ask that upon entering the office, you please apply Purell which is readily available to you in our Reception area and avoid hand shaking.

Of course, if you are experiencing any of the symptoms associated with the COVID-19 disease, please be courteous to our staff and other clients and stay home. We are asking our employees to do the same for your protection.

Wishing you and yours good health during these times,

- Don and Annette Green
